

Berlin Dom

Memorial Service

September 11, 2002

We pray for the families and friends of the victims, who on this day are reliving the catastrophe that befell us one year ago. Comfort them, oh Lord, and let them find people to talk to, people to pray with, people to cry with, and people with whom they can share their painful memories, and grant them the comfort, strength and peace that only you can give.